How was it for you?

This season, we are inviting audience reviews for all of our performances.

So, do tell us about your MCCS concert experiences this Autumn, and some of your highlights could feature in one of our end-of-season newsletter editions.

Write to us about your peak musical moments. And of course, it's not only about the music, it's about the total experience ... the ambience, the anticipation, the excitement, and the sense of being present. So, do share what stands out as most memorable for you.

Send your review to:

Our 82nd concert series continues on Sunday 5 November with Jennifer Pike

Renowned for her unique artistry and compelling insight into music from the Baroque to the present day, Jennifer Pike has firmly established herself as one of today's most exciting instrumentalists.

She made her concerto debut with the Hallé Orchestra aged 11, and her international career was launched the following year when she won the BBC Young Musician and became the youngest major prize winner in the Menuhin International Violin Competition.

The programme for Sunday 5 November, 7.30pm is as follows:

Rebecca Clarke - Dumka

Beethoven - Violin Sonata No.5, 'Spring Sonata'

Lili Boulanger - D'un matin du printemps

Jeremy Pike - Elegy for Ukraine

Grieg - Sonata No. 1 in F major

Doors open at 6.45pm
